

When you form a valuable friendship, it influences you even when they are absent or deceased, mark 1 progress. When this

Friendship Changes You

If your luck is higher than one or both fates, you may choose to spend it all to beat one or both fates, respectively. Reset your luck to its starting value, add any new luck you gain from the new outcome, & enjoy the upgraded outcome of your action!

• Only higher than one fate, your success is complicated.

You can reduce one resource by 1 and increase another by 1 if it situation improves with this strong result.

• Higher than both fates, you succeed completely. Add +1 to two resources, or +2 to one resource, to show how your character's situation improves with this strong result. Roll a six-sided die for your chance, adding your method to the result. If any skills inferred by your titles apply to this action, also add +1 per relevant title. Roll two ten-sided dice for your fates.

FRIENDSHIPS - Retire from adventure when this track is full.

EXPERIENCE POINTS (XP) - Erase a full track to add another title.

Create your Character

Envision your character's role in the world, then write their name & title on your sheet, like "Anika, Huntress of the Briar", or "Tenzar, Space Marine of the Chaosphere".

Methods

Assign the numbers 3, 2, 1 & 1 to these methods of interacting with the world. The higher the number, the better your character usually is at that method.

- Agile: When you are quick, precise or nimble
- Open: When you are honest, honorable or trusting
- Forceful: When you are strong, imposing or brutal
- Sneaky: When you are silent, secretive or deceptive
- Aware: When you are wise, learned or alert

Resources

- Luck (how fate can turn) starts at 2, its maximum is 10.
- Wealth (the things you own) starts at its maximum of 5,
- Happiness (how good you feel) starts at its maximum of 5,
- Health (how much you thrive) starts at its maximum of 5.

When you have lost all of either happiness or health, you are either too sad, or too dead, to continue. When you need to lose a resource, but have none left, reduce one of your other resources instead.

Promises

Your story begins with two promises: the first promise is Tough or Impressive, made to yourself. The second is Tricky or Difficult, made to someone else. Envision the moment you made the second promise, & play from there, marking progress as you go.

When you complete a track, gain the related experience (XP).

When your XP track is full, you can erase it all to add another title based on your greatest achievement during that time.

- Impressive (4XP): Mark 1 progress per success or milestone.
- Tough (3XP): Mark 2 progress per success or milestone.
- Difficult (2XP): Mark 3 progress per success or milestone.
- Tricky (1XP): Mark 4 progress per success or story milestone.

Any task/journey/battle or promise which can't be resolved in a single action requires progress on a track of ten spaces. Find an empty track on the back of this sheet, or draw your own, the track, name the task, then envision the difficulty:

collaborative promises.
